

BUNGO GAME WHICH FAILED TO WORK

Shepherd Was Wise and, Excusing Himself, Notified the Police.

CHARLES DALE is a sheep herder. He had been paid off and came to the city to vary the monotony of life on the range. While looking at the temple he was accosted by a stranger, who informed him that there was a very fine museum in the city.

"I know a man who can get us a ticket," said the stranger, "and if you will come to his room I will get a ticket for you."

Dale went. The stranger led him to a room on South Temple. They found two men playing cards at a table. The party with museum tickets was out, but was expected back in a short time. Would Dale wait?

Having nothing else to do, Dale waited. His new friend suggested that they take a hand in the game just to pass the time away. "This Mormon poker is great sport," he declared.

It is too bad to disappoint the reader, but the truth is that Dale did not take a hand in the game. He did not win a pot or two and then lose his summer's wages.

What he did was to excuse himself as quickly as possible and hunt up a policeman. Patrolman Hohn and Detective Shannon returned to the room and found two of the confidence men sitting beside the card table waiting for "suckers." The third man, Dale's friend, was gone. The cards, chips and the paraphernalia, including a dummy's check for $2000, were found in the room.

On being arrested the men gave their names as James Rowe and Aaron Anderson, and their occupation respectively as lumberman and laborer. While the police say there is not the least doubt that they were trying to work a bongo game, it may be difficult to find a law which will exactly fit the case.

When the two men were safe under lock and key Patrolman Furst was posted in the room to wait for the caper. He had been there only a few minutes when there was a rap on the door. He opened it and found the con man with a stranger in tow. The stranger looked the surprise that he doubted felt, and inquired for the "boys." When told that he must go to the city hall he made a good bluff, denouncing the arrest as an outrage, but he finally submitted. He gave his name as Dave Anderson.

The man he had rounded up was a tourist and had been induced to go to the room on the promise that he should be shown some rare Mormon relics.

Are Opposed to Disfranchisement

National Negro Suffrage League Will Ask This of the Republicans.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The adoption of a plank declaring the Republican party "opposed to all forms of disfranchisement" founded on caste and race prejudice" will be asked by the National Negro Suffrage league. The league held its second annual convention at the International African Methodist church with an attendance of 100 delegates, forty-five of whom are delegates to the Republican convention. The convention names James H. Hays of Virginia, J. R. Clifford of West Virginia and James E. Dixon of Rhode Island as a committee to wait upon the Republican committee on resolutions today with the following declaration:

"The right of suffrage should not be withheld wherever intelligence and loyal regard for the spirit and aims of the Constitution are manifested. Whenever it is denied for reasons that do not apply to an understanding of the responsibilities of citizenship, a due regard for life, property and the perpetuation of popular government, the act is in direct conflict with the interest and letter of the Constitution of the United States. The Republican party therefore is opposed to all forms of disfranchisement founded on caste and race prejudice."

Long Pays Tribute to McKinley

Former Secretary of Navy Eulogizes the Martyr President in Address at Bunker Hill.

CHICAGO, June 21.—John D. Long, former Secretary of the Navy, was the principal speaker at the Bunker Hill day banquet of the New England society. Mr. Long paid a glowing tribute to President McKinley, giving him credit for the inauguration of the administration's colonial policy and dwell on his serious views regarding the responsibility of the head of the Government to all the people, irrespective of class or affiliation.

Chiefly his address was directed to the work done by New England for the rest of the country, by her men, her money and her education. He paid a compliment to the women of New England by saying that the stability of the early settlers and their energy in building up a new nation was due to the Puritan wives who made permanency of settlement a necessity.

Blood Troubles

Bad blood is the source of numerous aches and pains and the cause of nearly all stubborn, long-continued diseases. When the blood gets out of order, disease germs and poisons of various kinds find their way into the circulation and some serious trouble is the result. Rheumatism, Malaria, Old Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Anemia, and many pustular or scaly skin eruptions, like Eczema, Salt Rheum and Tetter, have their beginning in bad blood, and only a remedy that enters into the circulation and destroys the germs and poisons, can have any permanent good effect upon a disease of this character.

You can't check a blood disease by any external treatment; the sores and eruptions that appear upon the surface of the body are only manifestations or symptoms of some internal disorder that cannot be reached from the outside. S. S. S. antidotes the poisons, humors and acids that are the real cause of disease, cleanses and enriches the blood, and builds up at the same time the general health. S. S. S. invigorates all the organs and parts of the system and stimulates them to greater activity, and strong nerves and renewed health is the result. If you have any blood trouble, write us. No charge for medical advice.
